

Why do we use Textures?

- To identify different textured and non textured regions in an image.
- To classify/segment different texture regions in an image.
- To extract boundaries between major texture regions.

