

Structural Approach:

- Structural approach: a set of texels in some regular or repeated pattern
- Good for regular , Man made Textures
- Textures are represented by array of texels, just as pictures are represented by arrays of pixels

Statistical Approach:

- Texture is a quantitative measure of the arrangement of intensities in a region
- It is a spatial property.
- A simple one- dimensional Histogram is not useful in characterizing texture.

Original Image

Texon PDF

